Major works in Parkdale and Mentone

The Victorian Government is removing 27 dangerous level crossings and building 17 new stations, making the Frankston Line level crossing free by 2029 and improving safety, reducing congestion, and allowing more trains to run more often. We're removing the level crossings at Warrigal Road, Mentone and Parkers Road, Parkdale, and building a new Parkdale Station.

From early August, Parkdale Station will open to passengers, with construction continuing into spring. During this time, there will be stair access only to platforms. A shuttle service will continue to operate between Mentone and Mordialloc stations for passengers who are unable to use the stairs. We will keep you informed about when the station will open, when works are complete and the lifts in use.

What we're doing

During August we will:

- install and commission light poles in the station precinct
- continue commissioning the station lifts
- complete drainage works
- start landscaping and installing pedestrian paths under the rail bridge
- continue road and kerb reinstatement works
- relocate gas utilities
- construct the shared user path and carparking spaces

Works will take place during the following times:

- ⚙ 7am to 6pm weekdays
- ⚙ 7am to 3pm Saturdays

What to expect

- Crews using the site office, compounds, and laydown areas
- Moderate to high noise and vibration from machinery, including cranes, excavators, and trucks
- Minor delays and detours on roads and footpaths, and lane closures
- Minor traffic delays near site access gates and increased truck movements and deliveries
- Additional truck movements and vehicles for support crews
